

Publisher to Speak To Women Voters

William Zappas, publisher of the PRESS, will be one of two featured speakers Tuesday at a luncheon of the Torrance League of Women Voters honoring the group's national recognition as a full fledged league.

Topic of Zappas' talk will be, "Torrance, City in Search of a Center." Co-speaker at the noon event, to be held at the Polynesian Restaurant, will be Robert L. Curry, publisher of the South Bay Daily Beeze.

Honored guests will be Torrance city officials. Included are: Mayor Albert Isen, City Manager Wade Peebles and Councilmen Victor Benstead, Nicholas Drale, Ken Miller, Ross Sciarrotta and George Vico.

Moderator of the panel discussion on growth of Torrance will be Mrs. Melzar Jones, state coordinator. Recognized at the state convention last month as a full-fledged league, the year-old organization was formerly known as the Provisional League of Women Voters of Torrance.

Purpose of the league is to encourage informed citizen participation in government on local, state and national levels. Study groups meet semi-monthly, and regular meetings take place four times a year. Membership is open to all women of voting age.

Hostesses at the luncheon will be: Mmes C. R. Berwanger, president; James Anderson, O. W. Christianson, M. B. T. Davies, Bernard Dubrow, Donald Finkelstein, Howard Foote and Warren Shallies.

Persons desiring further information are invited to contact Mrs. E. E. Knapp, 370-1600 or Mrs. Emery Reeves at FR 5-5770.

THE DEAN OF WOMEN? JUST CALL HIM DADDY

A college dean of women became a father today! The life of James J. Gaultieri, coordinator of student activities at El Camino College, was suddenly complicated this spring when Miss Henrietta Martin, dean of women, elected to depart the campus on sabbatical leave of absence.

This left the congenial coordinator holding a fine pot of tea. In seeking a replacement for the energetic Miss Martin, college administrators found an ideal candidate to "man" the job. Familiar with the duties involved and acquainted with many of the 3876 coeds on campus, Gaultieri was a natural.

But a dean's life is not all a ball (Emperor and Empress). Nor is it always a man's cup of tea (Associated Women Students).

While he was making announcements about college fashion shows, Gaultieri's wife, Joyce, was making an announcement of her own.

So today, Gaultieri, in the pink, has forsaken the social calendar in favor of passing out cigars and announcing the birth of 6 lb. 11 oz. Leah Rose at South Bay Hospital in Redondo.

Before daddy was a dean, Mrs. Gaultieri, past president of the Faculty Wives and a leader in her own right, presented him a son, Tony, now 19 months.

Yesterday Jim Gaultieri was only a dean of women. Today he's the dean of daddies!

HEY KIDS! Here's your chance to get a free ride in an authentic covered wagon as Leonards celebrate "Western Days" at their Discount Department Store located at Torrance Store, 25405 Crenshaw, Sunday from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m.

Cardinal McIntyre to Speak At Marymount Exercises

Rt. Rev. Monsignor Joseph F. Sharpe, superintendent of high schools and colleges of the Archdiocese of Los Angeles, will be the principal speaker at the 15th annual commencement exercises at Marymount College on Saturday, June 1.

Presiding at the ceremonies to be held in the Student-Faculty Center on the Palos Verdes Estates campus at 11 a.m. will be His Eminence James Francis Cardinal McIntyre, who will present diplomas to members of the graduating class.

He will also officiate at the formal dedication of St. Gertrude's Residence Hall, which was recently completed and which will house 210 students beginning with the September academic term.

Built at a cost of $1,190,000, the dormitory will double Marymount's residence enrollment. It features a student lounge in each of the six wings, its own fully-equipped dispensary and lanai suites for members of the senior class.

Also taking part in the morning program will be Reverend Mother Gertrude, Provincial of the Religious of the Sacred Heart of Mary Order which conducts the college, and Mother M. du Sacre Coeur, president.

Rt. Rev. Monsignor Thomas McCarthy will preside at the traditional Baccalaureate ceremonies to be held on Friday, May 31, in the campus chapel.

Friends of Marymount are cordially invited to attend the Saturday graduation exercises, and are requested to be seated by 10:45 a.m. in the Student-Faculty Center auditorium.

With Ruth Caudle... SWINGING DOWN A LANE

The Scotch Doubles going into its fourth week is working up to a very exciting tournament. The weekly winners for last week were: High series, David and Kathleen Hakes; second high series, Jack Chindahl and Fran Kincaid; third high, Duane Corey and Connie Mandell.

With just two week ends left, it should be a lot of fun to see who can win the highest series of the five weekends and walk away with the $150 grand prize. This tournament is being held at Rose Lanes Bowl in Gardena, 3020 Rosecrans Ave., and is being sponsored by the National Fifty and Over Bowling Club, Inc. It is open to all bowlers who are sanctioned, regardless of age, and it runs every Saturday from 10 a.m. until 2 a.m. and on Sundays from 10 a.m. until midnight, closing time of the lanes.

Also the NFAOBC is putting on a "Junior Open Classic" in conjunction with Rose Lanes Bowl. This tournament is open to all boys 13 to 17 years of age, they can qualify in open play as well as league and must be sanctioned in the American Junior Bowling Congress. These boys will bowl for a chance to bowl with one of the top bowlers in the Professional Bowling Tour, such as Don Carter, Andy Marzich, Buzz Fazio and others. There will be rules and applications in the various bowling houses — look for it. Averages are Class "A," 165 and over, and Class "B," 164 and under.

I would like to thank Mrs. Lillian Stafford, who invited me over to her house to meet some prospective members for the club, but I was never so surprised in my life to see some of our regular members, and to hear them yell "surprise."

I thought I had kept my birthday a secret, but they must have tricked me at some time or other, and I gave it away. Let me thank all those present for the lovely gifts and Happy Birthday wishes. My age? Just say over 50.

Siemon and Frame Builders Honored by Edison Company

A special "Gold Medal" plaque, recognizing electrical excellence in residential construction, has been presented to Siemon and Frame Building Corp of Redondo Beach by Southern California Edison district manager. Redondo Beach Mayor William Czeleger was on hand for the presentation.

Redondo Pacific Estates, being built at two locations in north and south Redondo Beach, will consist of 500 Gold Medallion (all-electric) homes. The "sister" developments are situated at Prospect Drive and Sepulveda Blvd., in north Redondo Beach, and at Prospect Drive and Diamond Street, in south Redondo Beach. The first unit of 92 homes is already 60 per cent sold, according to Jenkins. The entire development is expected to be completed within two years, he said.

Each two-story or split-level unit boasts an all-electric kitchen with such built-in appliances as range, oven, automatic dishwasher and water heater. Fully insulated rooms are heated by hidden ceiling cables and controlled by individual room thermostats.

Other features include wall-to-wall carpeting, fireplaces, snack bars and stall showers. There are three basic architectural styles — ranch, colonial and modern — and six basic color schemes, Jenkins pointed out.

Redondo Pacific Estates consist of three and four-bedroom homes with two baths and den or family room. Each home contains from 1600 to 1760 square feet of living space and is in the $27,995 to $29,950 range.

Many units have beach and ocean views while others command vistas of the city from an elevated site, said Jenkins.

Architects of Redondo Pacific Estates were Remington and Young of Redondo Beach.

Plaque was presented by Lew Jenkins, right, Southern California Edison Company district manager, and Redondo Beach Mayor William Czeleger.

JOHN R. DAY Jr., vice president, Siemon and Frame Building Corporation, places Gold Medallion Plaque at top of Pacific Redondo Estates home.

WIDE AISLES, easily accessible displays and discount prices are evidenced in Leonards newly remodeled and enlarged Torrance Discount Food Market at 25405 So. Crenshaw Blvd., at the corner of Pacific Coast Highway. Free gifts will be given during grand opening of the market today.

Western Rally for Leonards Opening

Leonards Discount Department Store, 25405 So. Crenshaw, will celebrate its annual Western Days sale today. "This rootin'-tootin' event proves to folks that the dollar is still worth 100 cents when they shop at our stores," stated Robert Leonard Jr.

A "Fast-draw" contest will take place as customers "reach for the bargains" that will be offered in every department throughout the store during this spectacular event in conjunction with the store's "grand opening" of its discount food market.

While the folks are inside the store "rounding-up" major "branded" goods at good old-fashioned low, low prices, the kiddies will be given free rides in authentic covered wagons, drawn by two white mules which were purchased from Gene Autry at the close of the Seattle World's Fair. These wagons, which helped to blaze the trails to the West, are 50 to 60 years old. Driven by genuine movie and TV western cowboys, the wagons will blaze a trail around Leonards Store.

Pioneers in the discount department store field, Leonards invites their neighbors to join the fun of Western Days. All the store employees and sales people will be decked out in their best western bib-and-tucker. Customers are invited to either "come as you are" or don their western garb. (Notice: no guns allowed).

According to Robert G. Graw, general manager for the Leonards chain, "This is one event of the year when our customers can 'corral buys' that are better than 'panning for gold.'"

Leonards newly enlarged and remodeled Discount Food Market located in their Torrance "One-Stop Shopping Center" — a complete super discount food market — features the latest and finest in modern refrigeration and display fixtures, assuring maximum protection for the high quality meat and produce being offered. The market which is 15,000 brands, efficient service, and the every-day prices will be lower than super market prices," said Dominic Onori, market manager.

Bob Sherry, grocery and meat buyer, who has had 29 years experience in market merchandising, stated that "customized meat service will receive special emphasis in our all-new meat department. People in the Torrance area will have the opportunity of getting the best foods at unusually low prices. We are able to accomplish this by knowing how to keep costs down while quality is maintained at the highest peak."

After specializing in the produce division of the market business for 20 years, Louis Amen, produce and grocery buyer, said, "We are proud of our fresh produce department. The market is restocked daily with fresh produce. With careful and thoughtful and thoughtful shopping, the Torrance housewife will be able to make tremendous savings in her food budget."

During this special event the market will have many free demonstrations as well as free gifts and free ice-cream cones.

Robert Merryman, Torrance store manager, said, "While celebrating Leonards annual Western Days, our new market is the place to stock your 'Chuck Wagon.'"
